Through three distinct stories, Country Driving tracks the rise of the automobile in Chinese life. The book begins with The Wall, an account of a months-long road trip that follows stretches of the Great Wall. All told, Hessler drives 7,436 miles across northern China, the once-great cultural heartland that nowadays is rapidly losing its population to massive urban migration. The 1st is really about driving in the country and exploring the Great Wall. 2nd is a story about a country family as they learn to adapt to their rapidly changing/urbanizing world. 3rd is a story about one factory and the people whose livelihoods depend on it. This is very well written and my favorite Peter Hessler book.
